INSTRUCTIONS FOR SCHEDULE A (FORM 1045-K)—Computation of Net Operating Loss

Use Schedule A to compute your net operating loss deduction.

Line 8—Nonbusiness deductions are those not connected with a trade or business. They include the following:

The standard deduction from line 2 above is allowed as a nonbusiness deduction if you do not itemize deductions. Itemized deductions are usually nonbusiness except for casualty loss deductions and any employee business expenses such as union dues, uniforms, tools and educational expenses.

The deductions allowed for payments to a Keogh retirement plan and individual retirement arrangement are nonbusiness deductions.

Do not include the following business deductions on line 8:

Loss from the sale of accounts receivable, if such accounts arose under the accrual method of accounting.

Casualty losses and theft losses are considered attributable to a trade or business. This is true even if they involve nonbusiness property.

Your proportionate share of a partnership or an S corporation's loss. Losses on stock in small business corporations that qualify as ordinary losses.

Loss resulting from the sale or exchange of small business investment company stock that qualifies as an ordinary loss.

Line 9—Nonbusiness income (other than capital gains)—Include income that is not from trade or business. Examples are dividends, annuities and interest on investments.

Do not include the following business income on line 9:

Salaries and wages.

Gain or loss on sale or other disposition of real or depreciable property used in your trade or business.

Your proportionate share of a partnership or an S corporation's income.

Lines 18 and 19—Adjust this amount by the appropriate addition or subtraction entered on Schedule M. For more information, see federal regulation Section 1.172-3 and federal Publication 536, Net Operating Losses.
