FINAL RULING NO. 2012-29
April 4, 2012

Tangible Personal Property Tax Assessments
January 1, 2006 through January 1, 2008

FINAL RULING

The Kentucky Department of Revenue ("Department") currently has outstanding tangible personal property ad valorem tax assessments against ██████████ LLC ("██████████"), for the January 1, 2006 and January 1, 2007 tax years. These assessments total $██████████ (plus applicable interest and penalties). A breakdown of the assessments is shown in the chart below:

Tax Year	Tax Due	Interest As of 04/04/2012	Penalty 04/04/2012	Total Due As of 04/04/2012
January 1, 2006	$██████████	$██████████	$██████████	$██████████
January 1, 2007	$██████████	$██████████	$██████████	$██████████
TOTALS	$██████████	$██████████	$██████████	$██████████

██████████ protested the tangible personal property tax assessed by the Department for the January 1, 2006 and January 1, 2007 tax periods. ██████████ is in disagreement with these assessed amounts because "it was based on an estimate of Kentucky taxable tangible personal property because of the lack of documentation provided to the auditor.” ██████████ has failed to respond to the Department’s requests for supporting documentation that were made on ██████████, 2011; ██████████, 2012; and ██████████, 2012.

At issue is whether ██████████ has complied with the supporting statement requirement of KRS 131.110(1); which states in relevant part:

The protest shall be accompanied by a supporting statement setting forth the grounds upon which the protest is made.

The Kentucky courts have held that this statutory provision imposes upon a taxpayer protesting an assessment or a refund denial a legal duty to provide the Department with “something more substantial than mere denials of tax liability.” Eagle Machine Co., Inc. v. Commonwealth ex rel. Gillis, Ky. App., 698 S.W.2d 528, 530 (1985). In order to make a valid protest, a taxpayer must “provide financial statements, records or some other documentation that would allow the Department some basis for reconsideration.” Id. at 529.

The courts have held that this statutory provision is “mandatory in nature” and that failure to submit documentation as it requires will result in the taxpayer’s loss of the right to further review of the assessment or refund denial in question. Scotty’s Construction Co. v. Revenue Cabinet, Ky. App., 779 S.W.2d 234 (1989). In both Scotty’s Construction and Eagle Machine, the taxpayers failed to provide any substantial information in support of their denials of tax liability, despite being given ample opportunity to do. The same is true here.

Therefore, the outstanding tangible personal property tax assessments totaling $ ██████████ (plus applicable interest and penalties) are legitimate liabilities of ██████████ and are due to the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

This letter is the final ruling of the Department.
