FINAL RULING NO. 2005-35
September 21, 2005

FINAL RULING

The Department of Revenue currently has an outstanding assessment for motor vehicle ad valorem or property taxes in the amount of $ [REDACTED] for a 2003 Ford F150 Pickup owned by [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] ("the taxpayer"). A breakdown of the assessment is shown in the chart below:

Tax Year	Tax Due	Interest As of 9-15-2005	Penalty As of 9-15-2005	Total Due As of 9-15-2005
January 1, 2003	$ [REDACTED]	$ [REDACTED]	$ [REDACTED]	$ [REDACTED]

The Department of Revenue had discovered that the property taxes for the motor vehicle in question had not been assessed or paid for 2003 and accordingly issued the taxpayer the omitted assessment referred to above. For the reasons that follow, the taxpayers were properly assessed property tax for this vehicle.

Liability for ad valorem taxes on a motor vehicle is fixed by KRS 134.810(4), which states:

When a motor vehicle has been transferred before registration renewal or before taxes due have been paid, the owner pursuant to KRS 186.010(7)(a) and (c) on January 1 of any year shall be liable for the taxes on the motor vehicle...

Under KRS 186.010(7)(a), the owner of a motor vehicle is defined as “a person who holds legal title of a vehicle or a person who pursuant to a bona fide sale has received physical possession of the vehicle subject to any applicable security interest.”

The assessment in question is presumed to be valid and it is the taxpayer’s burden to prove otherwise. Revenue Cabinet v. Gillig, 957 S.W.2d 206 (Ky. 1997); Walter G. Hougland & Sons v. McCracken County Board of Supervisors, 306 Ky. 234, 206 S.W.2d 951 (1947). It is undisputed that the taxpayers, [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] purchased the motor vehicle in question on [REDACTED], 2002. No evidence has been presented by them that would establish that they did not have physical possession as of the January 1, 2003 assessment date. The amount of tax paid ($1,586.94) to the motor vehicle dealer was the motor vehicle usage tax due upon registration of the motor vehicle, as required by KRS 138.460.

The only issue that appears to be raised by the taxpayers is their assertion that they paid applicable taxes at the time of registration with the county clerk pursuant to 134.805(5). At the time of registration with the county clerk pursuant to 134.805(5), no ad valorem was collected. This procedure is not the exclusive and mandatory procedure for the ad valorem tax assessment of motor vehicles. Instead, this procedure has been instituted “[f]or the convenience and benefit of the Commonwealth’s citizens and to maximize ad valorem tax collections.” KRS 134.805(5)(a). Other provisions of the property tax law, including the Kentucky Constitution, require that all personal property, which would include motor vehicles, shall be listed for taxation and if for any reason personal property is not listed, then it may be assessed by the Department of Revenue as omitted property. KRS 132.190; 132.220; 132.290; 132.310; 132.320; Ky. Const. §§ 3, 170, 172, 174. The motor vehicle in question was unquestionably not listed for ad valorem taxation for the 2003 tax year and thus has been properly assessed as omitted property.

For the reasons stated above, the assessment in question is valid and a legitimate ad valorem tax liability of the taxpayers [REDACTED] and [REDACTED].

This letter is the final ruling of the Department of Revenue.
