

By letter dated [REDACTED], 2011, the Department requested one of the following by [REDACTED], 2011:

1. Provide documentation to support [REDACTED] does not meet the criteria of a Commercial Watercraft Corporation as stated in KRS 136.1801 through KRS 136.1806.
2. Send a written request to withdraw the protest
3. Request a final ruling. A final ruling will be issued within thirty days. Once issued, [REDACTED] may appeal to the Kentucky Board of Tax Appeals.
4. Request a formal conference. [REDACTED] may meet with the DPR to discuss the protested issues. [REDACTED] must provide a description of the issues to be discussed as well as additional documentation to support [REDACTED]'s position.

[REDACTED] failed to provide the requested information. Accordingly, the Department sent [REDACTED] a second letter dated [REDACTED], 2011 requesting the same information by [REDACTED], 2011. To date, no response to either of these letters has been received by the department.

At issue is whether [REDACTED] has complied with the requirements of KRS 131.110(1), which states in pertinent part:

The protest shall be accompanied by a supporting statement setting forth the grounds upon which the protest is made. Upon written request, the department may extend the time for filing the supporting statement if it appears the delay is necessary and unavoidable.

The Kentucky courts have held that this statutory provision imposes upon a taxpayer protesting an assessment or a refund denial a legal duty to provide the Department with "something more substantial than mere denials of tax liability." Eagle Machine Co., Inc. v. Commonwealth ex rel. Gillis, 698 S.W.2d 528, 530 (Ky.App. 1985). In order to make a valid protest, a taxpayer must "provide financial statements, records or some other documentation that would allow the Revenue Department some basis for reconsideration." Id. at 529.

The courts have further held that KRS 131.110(1) is "mandatory in nature" and that failure to submit documentation as it requires will result in the taxpayer's loss of the right to further review of the assessment or refund denial in question. Scotty's Construction Co. v. Revenue Cabinet, 779 S.W.2d 234 (Ky.App. 1989). In both Scotty's Construction and Eagle Machine, the taxpayers failed to provide any substantial information in support of their denials of tax liability, despite being given ample opportunity to do. The same is true in this matter.

Therefore, the outstanding commercial watercraft personal property tax assessment totaling $██████████ (plus applicable interest and penalties) is deemed legitimate liabilities of ACL due to the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

This letter is the final ruling of the Kentucky Department of Revenue.
